Gospel: Mathew 4:12-23

Once Jesus began to choose his first disciples, it meant he was now seriously intent on his mission as he began to choose those who will support him, in his endeavors to open people's mind to God's life. The fact that Peter, Andrew, James, and John dropped everything and followed him meant that they had already started their religious journey and were looking for spiritual truths.

No atheist would take this call. It will take many more years before they arrived to the full realization of the call made that day by Jesus.

Faith deepens at it's own pace.

"Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men."

Lenten Series

Feb 13th, the First Lenten Presentation, Rev. Dr. John H. Elliot, Professor of Theology at the University of San Francisco. Dr. Elliot is recognized for his research on the New Testament Book of 1 Peter. At USF he has taught a spectrum of courses on the Bible and the Ancient World of scripture. He will speak to us about regaining a sense of a Christian consciousness, of sensing that one is a Christian in a complex world.

From the Pew

Today, January 27th, there will be only one Mass for both communities, 10 a.m. at St. Cecilia's. After coffee and snacks, parishioners have an opportunity to address their concerns, ideas, hopes, and needs, or what direction our parish should be moving towards. Take the time to think and reflect as this meeting can have a very positive outcome for the future.

March 8th, St. Patrick's Parish Function. Cocktail 6 p.m., Dinner 7 p.m. at St. Cecilia's Parish Hall. Mark your calendar.

March 16th, Palm Sunday, there will be no Mass at St. Cecilia's. The 9:30 a.m. Mass and 11:15 a.m. Mass will be at St. Mary's. It is hoped that following either 9:30 or 11:15 a.m. Masses, Parishioners will go to the Druid's Hall for brunch. This is St. Mary's major fund-raiser.

June 20th, St. Cecilia's Golf Tournament. Ginny Kerbs need someone to chair: (A). Raffle tickets, (B). Auction Items. Contact Ginny at 415-488-9694.

Haley Dallara was welcomed into the St. Cecilia community of faith last Sunday. We know she will have a good sixteen years of fellowship with us until she moves into her college years. Congratulations to Corey and Theresa Dallara, and to her god parents, and grandparents, and the DeRutte's.

After 55 years in the Valley, George Flanders passed from this life to the next. We keep his family and friends in our prayers.
