Gospel: John 9:1-41

What does it mean to have our eyes opened? And so he looked around, and then he looked up, and then he looked down, and struggling for sight looked right and left, and yet he could not find what he was looking for. Then he remembered what Jesus said, "The Kingdom of God is within, --- is within you." "Thou would'st not have sought him," as Pascal said, "- unless thou hadst already found him." "The salvation of the soul is a personal experience and discourse between oneself and the Saviour. This can only happen from within." S.W. Boreham.

Last week I asked all of us to consider what a parish is. It would be nice for parishioners to tell us their ideas in 4 or 5 lines. This is my concept of a parish: "It is one community amongst many communities. But it is unique in that what a parish does a bank cannot do for us, or a court, or a police department, or a hospital, and so on. A parish community is unique for this reason. A parish community nurtures friendships, hospitality, support, God experience; nurtures values, laughter, joy, sacredness, self-esteem, wisdom, conversation, rites, roots, and much more. The amount of nurturing that takes place in a parish is unsurpassed in any other organization except for the family unit. But imagine a hundred people, two hundred people, five hundred people nurturing us. Only a parish can do that."
