Gospel: John 6:51-58

Though the Eucharist is mainly seen as the Mass we celebrate every Sunday, there are other Eucharistic devotions such as, Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament reserved on the altar; Viaticum, Communion to the Sick; Eucharistic Congresses convened by the Pope, and Eucharistic Processions as the Feast of Corpus Christi. In its history, other names have been used for Eucharist. For example, the Lord's Supper, Table of the Lord, Breaking of the Bread, Sacrifice, and Agape. The Eucharist is always a Mystery, a Sacrament, a Meal, and a Memorial. It is by far the most frequent sacrament of the church. One can receive Eucharist everyday and a priest three times a day.

For the Record

Giovanni de Medici became Pope Leo X in 1513. For our times this would be absurd. He was a priest at age eight, abbot of the famous Benedictine House at Monte Cassino at eleven years, and a cardinal at thirteen years old. He became Pope at 37 years of age. His pontificate lasted from 1513 to 1521. In these eight years, he became the most expensive pope ever living in a lavishly high lifestyle. Historians consider Pope Leo's Rule as the beginning of the split in the church, eventually the emergence of Protestantism.
