"Did You Know?" How old does a child need to be in order to stay alone? Experts say children do not have the mental maturity to cross busy streets by themselves until they're about 10 or 12 years old. (Pedestrian injuries rank third in child fatalities, behind traffic accidents and drowning.) Parents who are certain their young children would never walk away with a stranger will be shocked to learn that studies show they probably will. Stay alert and vigilant. - Office of Child & Youth Protection, SF Archdiocese

Married love is meant to mirror the love within the Trinity - to be faithful, selfless, permanent, and life-giving. Rather than encouraging this kind of love, many people engage in sexual relationships that are unfaithful, selfish, short-term, and altered to be sterile, not life giving. Such uncommitted relationships damage our ability to love as we're meant to love and Catholic teaching on sexuality; and very often lead to other problems - unintended pregnancies, abortions, sexually-transmitted diseases.
