Gospel: John 13:31-35

We recognize catholic churches by a sign that says so, or a saint's name of the church, or a statue of Our Lady, or a picture of the Pope in the hall, or adoration, etc. Christ used none of these as signs of his Church. What He said was, "They will know you are my disciples by the love you have for each other."

From the Pew:

Wednesday, April 28th, parishioners from St. Cecilia's & St. Mary's visited St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park. We were welcomed by Seminarian Matt Oakland who conducted a 2-hour private tour for us. We enjoyed the wonderful narrations and stories on the chapels, classrooms, hallways, library, dining hall, architecture and history, seminarian life, etc. It was a special day for the Drady's, as they were celebrating their 48th Wedding Anniversary that day. Matt will be graduating this June in his home state Washington. We wish him all the best, and we hope he will come and visit our part of the country someday, and we can return the welcome to him.

The Vatican has announced a commission to investigate the authenticity of the Marian Apparition of Medjugorje. To date more than 30 million pilgrims have visited the grounds. Because it is not yet an officially approved site by the church, Yugoslav parishes and dioceses cannot make official pilgrimages to the site. They go as individuals or private organizations.
