Gospel: Luke 7:36-50

Only God can forgive sins, therefore Jesus purporting to forgive sins declares himself God. It couldn't be clearer to the Pharisees, this scandal Jesus professes of himself. Later Jesus will go one step further. He will declare his church in the Sacrament of reconciliation will also have the power to forgive sins. This will be all too much for the Pharisees.

Catholic Myths:

Myth – Catholics can buy forgiveness or buy their way out of Hell, with indulgences.

Truth – If you are in Hell, there is nothing we can do for you. The Catholic notion of indulgences is to reduce temporal punishments due to sins committed. Particular prayers or actions for the dead are indulgences for them. So basically less time in purgatory. On behalf of someone else our prayers for them reduce their punishment. We have a positive reason to pray for the dead.
