Matthew 16 : 13 – 19

“Who do you say I am” is a question Jesus asked his followers and expected a response to his question. There are only two choices, yes I believe or no I cannot believe.

St. Mary Family Picnic at Samuel Taylor State Park

From the Pew

St. Cecilia & St. Mary 1st Summer Picnic, TODAY, 4 p.m. at St. Cecilia's. Bring a side dish & beverages to add to the barbeque.

Parish Cruise Meeting, TODAY, 3 p.m. at the rectory before the picnic, to finalize the Trip to Vietnam/Cambodia in November 2015.

We welcome Yahir Florencio and Emma Serrero to our Faith Family. Yahir was baptized into the Catholic Faith at St. Cecilia's; and Emma at St. Mary's last week.

We bid farewell to John Coleman, passed away at the age of 87. May he rest in peace.

Climate Crisis (Part 1 of 2)

Climate change is an issue of unusual complexity that requires international cooperation. Unfortunately cooperation is in short supply amongst world leaders. Even in the United States, some states have made little changes, while others have. Yet this is a subject that has vital interests in protecting the earth for all its inhabitants. Legislations to limit carbon emissions are stalled in the U.S. Citizens need to get involved and awaken a dangerous slumber of lack of initiative by national leaders.
