Mark 5 : 21 - 43

Last Sunday, Jesus demonstrated his power over the forces of nature. This Sunday, he demonstrates his power over life. The one who creates life is also able to give life back again if he so wills. For many, this is enough to be disciples of Jesus. What further needs do we have than what we have already seen.

Team St. Mary won the Bocce Ball Tournament by a landslide; leaving Team St. Cecilia speechless

+ Junipero Serra will be canonized by Pope Francis September 2015. Fr. Serra left his home country to minister to people who at that time were considered unworthy of attention by Europeans. He learnt the local languages and lived amongst them. He followed the Spanish practices of the times which today are considered somewhat cruel. We are progressed from then. We can only be judged by the times we lived in, as we will be judged by our time in history.

Vatican Facts There are hundreds of statues of popes in St. Peter's Basilica, also saints and other church VIPs of the past. There are three memorials to three uncanonized women in the Basilica:

1. Queen Christina of Sweden. 1626-1689
2. Clementina Sobieski, married to King James III, England. 1702-1735
3. Countess Canossa. Italy's Joan of Ac. She is the first woman to be buried in St. Peter's. 1046-1098.

Did you know 80% of orphans have living parents in the western world.
