Pope Francis.

Only people who are humble, simple, wise with open hearts welcome the Gospel into their lives.

Little Sisters of the Poor celebrate 150 years in the U.S. In 1868, a small group left Brittany, France to Brooklyn, New York to care for the elderly. Today 2,400 sisters serve in 31 countries, 19 states in the U.S. The government assists in 50% of providing care, the other 50% they must make up themselves. Elderly are welcomed to their homes regardless of religion and race. The community was founded by Jeanne Jugan 1792-1879, canonized in 2009. The Sisters take a fourth vow – Hospitality. When residents are in their last 24 hours, a sister remains with them so no one dies alone.
