WHAT HAVE I DONE FOR GOD & FOR THE CHURCH?

We don't want to hear about this truth, but the world will come to an end one day and our eternity will depend on the state of our conscience at the moment we depart.

Today's readings paint a somewhat frightening picture of the end-time. How would you and I answer if we were called by God to render an account of stewardship tonight? How do we stand in relationship with God, with neighbors, with creation, and with self? Malachi, Paul, and Jesus warn us about the Last Judgment: fire will consume the proud and evildoers, the destruction of the temple, war, earthquake, plague, famine, persecution, and even strife within families.

However, those are helpful warnings for us to avoid an unprepared end of our life. Malachi advises us to "fear the Lord." Jesus encourages us not to worry in times of trial, but to remain faithful always. St. Paul counsels us to work quietly and remain faithful in the "everyday" tasks of life, such as caring for the sick, forgiving others, remaining faithful in marriage, being a good parent, and loving one another.

If we are prepared and ready, we have no need to fear. Let us pray for the gift of perseverance in doing good works, for those who are faithful to the end will be saved.

The late President John F. Kennedy said: "Do not ask what the country has done for you, but ask what you have done for the country." Perhaps, on the Day of Judgment, Jesus will tell us the same: "Do not ask what God [and the Church] has done for you, because if you asked this you would have to write down an endless list of the benefits you have received; instead ask yourself: what have I done for God and for the Church?"
