SALT OF THE EARTH – LIGHT OF THE WORLD

Jesus says: “You are the salt of the earth... You are the light of the world...” We wish what Jesus says is to be true to us.

As the salt gives taste to food, so Jesus urges us to give “taste” to the world in which we live, by our good words and works, and by our living examples.

As a city built on the hill for people to see, as a lit lamp put on the lamp-stand to give light to the house, our light must shine before people, also through our good words and deeds, so that people will see the good things we do, and they will come to believe in God.

We know that a candle loses nothing by lighting another candle; rather, it helps bring more light for the room or the environment.

You and I don’t have to go to the farthest end of the world to evangelize; we don’t have to be a great preacher, but be a practitioner of the Gospel by showing our genuine love for one another, sharing bread with the hungry, welcoming the stranger, helping the poor... and people will see God in us and they will come to believe.

St. Paul, in the second reading, comes to proclaim the mystery of God to people not only through his words but also through practicing the gospel he preaches to them. Let our light shine before people! Let us practice God’s Commandments! Let people see God in our good works, so they will give praise to God, our heavenly Father!
